

A map of American Literature

[

Pascual Soler, Nieves

Universidad de Jaén,
2013

Recurso Electrónico

Our aim when writing and developing the contents included in this CD is to provide students with a variety of useful and motivating activities that help them to improve their knowledge of American literature. The material is divided into two sections. Section One, titled "A Survey of American Literature," focuses on the main literary texts written in the United States since 1620 up to the contemporary period. Section Two, "American Modernisms," centres on American Modernist literature (1920-1939). Each unit proposes a number of set readings by relevant authors and a variety of questions for the student to consider individually and in groups. This material can be used by students of Filología Inglesa, Filología Inglesa y Turismo, Magisterio and Estudios Ingleses, as well as by any person interested in American literature. [Fuente: Introduction]

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMjUxNjQwMzQ>

Título: A map of American Literature Recurso electrónico] Nieves Pascual Soler, Pilar Sánchez Calle

Editorial: Jaén (España) Universidad de Jaén 2013

Descripción física: 1 archivo

Mención de serie: Colección innovación docente 37

Restricciones de acceso: Acceso restringido a los usuarios de la Universidad Nebrija Limitaciones de impresión, copia y descarga

Detalles del sistema: Ordenador con navegador de Internet

ISBN: 9788484396741 9788484397403 ed. electrónica)

Materia: Literatura- Historia y crítica- Estados Unidos

Autores: Sánchez Calle, María Pilar

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es

