

Action at a Distance

[

Meson Press,
2020

Text Collections Book

Monografía

The mediality of transmission and the materiality of communication result today more than ever in "acting at a distance" - an action whose agency lies in a medium. This book provides an overview into this crucial phenomenon, thereby introducing urgent questions of human interaction, the binding and breaking of time and space, and the entanglement of the material and the immaterial. Three vivid inquiries deal with histories and theories of mediality and materiality

The mediality of transmission and the materiality of communication result today more than ever in "acting at a distance" - an action whose agency lies in a medium. This book provides an overview into this crucial phenomenon, thereby introducing urgent questions of human interaction, the binding and breaking of time and space, and the entanglement of the material and the immaterial. Three vivid inquiries deal with histories and theories of mediality and materiality

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:38443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlOGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMzQ5NDgwNTM>

Título: Action at a Distance electronic resource]

Editorial: Meson Press 2020

Tipo Audiovisual: Computer networks Computer software Transborder Data Flows

Restricciones de acceso: Open access content. Open access content star

Condiciones de uso y reproducción: CC BY-NC

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es