

The last family in England

/

Haig, Matt

Howes :
Clipper Large Print,
2005

Large type books

Fiction.

Humorous stories.

Monografía

It's Prince who is the narrator and protagonist of this tale. An earnest young dog, he strives hard to live up to the tenets of the Labrador Pact. Mentored by an elderly labrador named Henry, whom he meets each day in the park, Prince takes his responsibilities seriously, and as things in the Hunter family begin to go badly awry, his responsibilities threaten to overwhelm him. Funny, sad, quirky, original and - incidentally - a brilliant reworking of "Henry IV" part 1

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:38443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhemF0ei5yZW4vMzY0NDE1MjY>

Título: The last family in England Matt Haig

Edición: Large print ed

Editorial: Leicester [England] Howes Clipper Large Print 2005

Descripción física: 1 online resource (373 pages (large print))

Mención de serie: Clipper large print

Copyright/Depósito Legal: 1280775576

ISBN: 1845058275 9781845058272

Materia: Dogs- Fiction Chiens- Romans, nouvelles, etc Dogs.

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es