

Autumn Cthulhu /

Horror fiction. Short stories. Horror fiction.

Monografía

"After summer is winter, and life inevitably gives way to frozen sterility. In our modern world, we live cushioned existences, and congratulate ourselves on our supposed escape from the old dangers. We think ourselves caught out of nature's reach by our technological wizardry. Safely cocooned. This foolishness blinds us to the truth that our elder forebears could not avoid. Engulfed by the rhythms of the world, they understood ... Autumn means death."--Amazon.com

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMzY5NTk2MzM>

Título: Autumn Cthulhu edited by Mike Davis

Editorial: [Place of publication not identified] Lovecraft eZine Press [2016]

Descripción física: 1 online resource (398 pages illustrations)

Contenido: The night is a sea Scott Thomas. -- In the spaces where you once lived Damien Angelica Walters. -- Memories of the fall Pete Rawlik. -- Andy Kaufman creeping through the trees Laird Barron. -- There is a bear in the woods Nadia Bulkin. -- The smoke lodge Michael Griffin. -- Cul-de-sac virus Evan Dicken. -- DST (fall back) Robert Levy. -- The black azalea Wendy N. Wagner. -- After the fall Jeffrey Thomas. -- Anchor John Langan. -- End of the season Trent Kollodge. -- Water main S.P. Miskowski. -- The stiles of Palemarsh Richard Gavin. -- Grave goods Gemma Files. -- The well and the wheel Orrin Grey. -- Trick ... or the other thing Joseph S. Pulver, Sr. -- A shadow passing Daniel Mills. -- Lavinia in Autumn Ann K. Schwader

ISBN: 9780996694100 0996694102

Materia: Short stories, American Nouvelles américaines Short stories, American.

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es