

Isle of tears /

Challinor, Deborah

HarperCollins,
2008

New Zealand fiction- Historical fiction. Fiction. History. Historical fiction.

Monografía

A powerful story of love and loss set during the tumultuous six years of the Land Wars: it is the story of a young Pekeha girl, Megan Jamieson, who along with her older brothers and younger brother and sister is abducted by Maori after the murder of their parents. Raised by Maori, and rescued by British forces, and the object of curiosity

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMzc0MjcxOTY>

Título: Isle of tears Deborah Challinor

Editorial: Auckland, N.Z. HarperCollins 2008

Descripción física: 1 online resource (416 pages)

Bibliografía: Includes bibliographical references

ISBN: 9781869506339 pbk.) 1869506332 pbk.) 9781869508494 1869508491

Materia: Maori (New Zealand people)- Fiction Women- New Zealand- Fiction Maoris- Romans, nouvelles, etc Femmes- Nouvelle-Zélande- Romans, nouvelles, etc Maori (New Zealand people) Women.

Materia Geográfica: New Zealand- History- New Zealand Wars, 1860-1872- Fiction Auckland (N.Z.)- History- 19th century- Fiction Nouvelle-Zélande- Histoire- 1860-1872 (Guerre maorie)- Romans, nouvelles, etc New Zealand. <https://id.oclc.org/worldcat/entity/E39QbtfRmXBg7mpKX7p4DJ8Kqp> New Zealand- Auckland. <https://id.oclc.org/worldcat/entity/E39PBjfWXC7fJ3cgFWBCQHG8md>

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es