Christmas is a time for love peace and happiness. Spending time with family and enjoying the joys of the world. Taking the time out to reflect on the things that you've been blessed with throughout the years. The good and the bad. However, it can also be a time of sadness and sorrow if you're away from home. Alexander "Philly" Phillips is an attorney in the Army and has a bright future ahead of himself. He's driven, headstrong and focused on his career. So when he meets Milan, she's just the icing on the cake. Never having dealt with a soldier before, it takes Milan a minute to acquaint herself with the unfortunate sacrifices that come along with dating Philly. Though he's the one asking for the most understanding, the moment Milan exposes a piece of her painful past, Philly finds himself caught in an unfamiliar web of decision making. Just when they're ready to throw it all away, a sudden Christmas blessing brings them back together. Starting football player and NFL prospect Andrew "Drew" Logan is well on his way. The number one draft pick and a senior in college, Andrew has it all. On and off the field, Andrew is the man. With a girlfriend and a life-long best friend both madly in love with him, Andrew must make a decision. He's always been quick on his feet but the one night he needed to be the most, he wasn't. That one mistake led to his downfall and shattered his dreams. The very ones he thought loved him were the first to leave. Now stuck in an unfamiliar world of bars and chains, Andrew's fate lies in the hands of a stranger. He feels as if his life is over until the miracles of Christmas change things
