

Esperanza : a novel /

Feldbrand, Sarah,
author

Jewish religious fiction

English fiction

Haredi and religious literature

Fiction.

History.

Monografía

The year is 1546 (5306), and due to the inquisition, twelve-year-old Esperanza finds herself suddenly separated from her father, her only family. Her spirit and steadfast faith propel her forward as she finds loving friends who join her in her quest to explore life and her Jewish heritage. Meanwhile, in Constantinople, Esperanza's father, Don Raphael, is tormented by grief over the uncertain fate of his only child. Follow Don Raphael through daring adventures and harrowing journeys as he travels to Aleppo and Italy, meeting many great people along the way. He forges a new life for himself, hoping against hope that he may one day be reunited with his beloved daughter Esperanza

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMzcyMzI3ODM>

Título: Esperanza a novel Sarah Feldbrand

Editorial: Jerusalem Torah Temimah 2014 2014

Descripción física: 1 online resource (301 pages)

ISBN: 9789657599099 9657599091

Materia: Inquisition- Fiction Jews- Spain- History- Expulsion, 1492- Fiction Sephardim- History- Fiction Fathers and daughters- Fiction Inquisition- Romans, nouvelles, etc Juifs- Espagne- Histoire- 1492 (Expulsion)- Romans, nouvelles, etc Séfarades- Histoire- Romans, nouvelles, etc Pères et filles- Romans, nouvelles, etc Fathers and daughters. Inquisition. Jews. Sephardim.

Materia Geográfica: Spain. <https://id.oclc.org/worldcat/entity/E39PBJqFTrvj6Mhw6JfTGmqJDq>

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es